

THE TRINITY - VISUAL REPRESENTATIONS

1. God is not a triad. A triad is a group of three individual and separate items. They can be broken up and separated.

2. God is triune. A triune is a single object consisting of three distinct but inseparable elements. They cannot be broken up and separated without destroying the unity of the object..

3. A traditional representation of the Trinity.

